

CRB Chooses Matterport to Accelerate Critical Pharma Facilities Projects During Pandemic

May 12, 2021

Matterport digital twins reduce time to complete physical site assessments, expediting the adaptation of facilities to manufacture and store COVID-19 vaccines

SUNNYVALE, Calif., May 12, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Matterport Inc., the leading spatial data company driving the digital transformation of the built world, today announced that CRB, a global design and construction provider for the biotechnology and pharmaceutical industries, is implementing the Matterport platform to streamline client operations and enhance remote facilities management. CRB is using Matterport to create dimensionally-accurate digital twins of buildings to accelerate pharmaceutical facility design and management, enabling its clients to deliver critical vaccine development programs during and beyond the COVID-19 pandemic. Using Matterport digital twins, CRB has significantly reduced the number of engineers required to complete physical site assessments and the associated amount of time required for assessments. On one recent project, reducing the number of engineers needed on site from ten to one.

CRB is also using Matterport to share detailed site data for more effective design processes. Matterport digital twins provide a comprehensive view of a facility without requiring physical site visits, enabling greater client and stakeholder collaboration. Using Matterport, CRB has expedited design projects by as much as three weeks and cut travel-related costs by 33%. This has enabled CRB to rapidly adapt a facility for a leading pharmaceutical company to manufacture and store COVID-19 vaccines as part of the US Government's Operation Warp Speed initiative.

"Matterport provides phenomenal high-resolution digital twins and is ideal for technically complex and time-sensitive projects. We don't need to model all the geometry in an area to know if a certain piece of equipment will fit, since we can download the point cloud information into programs like Autodesk Revit to validate dimensions," said Chris Link, Regional Virtual Design and Construction Manager of CRB. "Integrating clear, precise 3D images with highly accurate data establishes a new standard in our industry. Matterport is an increasingly valuable solution for us as we plan for the future, saving our clients weeks of time and tens of thousands of dollars."

CRB has also expanded its client offerings by leveraging Matterport to deliver more complex solutions for ongoing facilities management. This has included the creation of a digital twin of a client's clean room located in an antibiotics production facility so that operations teams can walk through it virtually to understand procedures and reduce contamination risks. A digital twin of a biotech site, complete with Mattertag labels related to spatial proximity and equipment types, has enabled better replication at another site.

"We are excited to see Matterport 3D technology used to create actionable digital twins that help engineering teams reconfigure and replicate pharmaceutical sites so they can efficiently and remotely advance biotech and pharmaceutical facilities projects during and beyond the pandemic," said Jay Remley, Chief Revenue Officer at Matterport. "Our platform is ideal for clients, stakeholders, and internal teams to collaborate virtually in an immersive way and more quickly develop solutions to address even the most complicated design challenges."

About Matterport

Matterport is leading the digital transformation of the built world. Our groundbreaking spatial computing platform turns buildings into data making every space more valuable and accessible. Millions of buildings in more than 150 countries have been transformed into immersive Matterport digital twins to improve every part of the building lifecycle from planning, construction, and operations to documentation, appraisal and marketing. Forward-Looking Statements

This document contains certain forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws with respect to the proposed business combination between Gores Holdings VI, Inc. ("Gores") and Matterport, Inc. ("Matterport"), including statements regarding the benefits of the proposed business combination, the anticipated timing of the proposed business combination, the services offered by Matterport and the markets in which Matterport operates, business strategies, debt levels, industry environment, potential growth opportunities, the effects of regulations and Gores' or Matterport's projected future results. These forward-looking statements generally are identified by the words "believe," "project," "expect," "anticipate," "estimate," "intend," "strategy," "future," "forecast," "opportunity," "plan," "may," "should," "will," "would," "will be," "will continue," "will likely result," and similar expressions (including the negative versions of such words or expressions).

Forward-looking statements are predictions, projections and other statements about future events that are based on current expectations and assumptions and, as a result, are subject to risks and uncertainties. Many factors could cause actual future events to differ materially from the forward-looking statements in this document, including but not limited to: (i) the risk that the proposed business combination may not be completed in a timely manner or at all, which may adversely affect the price of Gores' securities; (ii) the risk that the proposed business combination may not be completed by Gores' business combination deadline and the potential failure to obtain an extension of the business combination deadline if sought by Gores; (iii) the failure to satisfy the conditions to the consummation of the proposed business combination, including the approval of the proposed business combination by Gores' stockholders, the satisfaction of the minimum trust account amount following redemptions by Gores' public stockholders and the receipt of certain governmental and regulatory approvals; (iv) the effect of the announcement or pendency of the proposed business combination on Matterport's business relationships, performance, and business generally; (v) risks that the proposed business combination disrupts current plans of Matterport and potential difficulties in Matterport employee retention as a result of the proposed business combination; (vi) the outcome of any legal proceedings that may be instituted against Gores or Matterport related to the agreement and plan of merger or the proposed business combination; (vii) the ability to maintain the listing of Gores' securities on the NASDAQ; (viii) the price of Gores' securities, including volatility resulting from changes in the competitive and highly regulated industries in which Matterport plans to operate, variations in performance across competitors, changes in laws and regulations affecting Matterport's business and changes in the combined capital structure; and (ix) the ability to implement business plans, forecasts, and other expectations after the completion of the proposed business combination, and identify and realize additional opportunities. The foregoing list of factors is not exhaustive. You should carefully consider the foregoing factors and the other risks and uncertainties that will be described in Gores final proxy statement/information statement/prospectus contained in the registration statement on Form S-4, including those under "Risk Factors" therein, and other documents filed by Gores from time to time with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"). These filings identify and address other important risks and uncertainties that could cause actual events and results to differ materially from those contained in the forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made. Readers are cautioned not to put undue reliance on forward-looking statements, and Gores and Matterport assume no obligation and, except as required by law, do not intend to update or revise these forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise. Neither Gores nor Matterport gives any assurance that either Gores or Matterport will achieve its expectations.
